Altai Systems Partner to be a Panelist at AMSFest DC 2016

Washington, DC – Altai Systems, Inc., is excited to not only be a Showcase Company (Association Management Software – AMS company) at AMSFest in DC, but we are also proud to have Altai Partner, Mike Frye, serve as a panelist at the event.

Mike Frye, along with Facilitator Dave Will, and four other panelists will lead the discussion, "Beneath the Surface: Investors Discover Association Tech & What it Means for You." Being held in Washington, DC the popular event offers not only scheduled panel discussions but attendees can choose topics they'd like to hear from crowdsourced sessions posted prior to the event.

Teri Carden, Founder of ReviewMyAMS.com and AMSFest, discussed her thoughts on the "Beneath the Surface" panel:

"There is a tsunami of investment money that is flooding into the association technology market. The effects of these investments aren't apparent on a day to day basis, but over months and years, they add up and can significantly impact an association's operations and will eventually alter the association technology ecosystem. This is why I'm so excited about the AMSFest panel on investment firms vs. self-funded firms -- what associations need to know about the good and bad of both types of models and how to be proactive regarding the inevitable merge or acquisition."

Altai Partner, Mike Frye stated his enthusiasm for the topic by saying, "It will be fun to sit on the AMSFest panel about investment opportunities in the non-profit space. Having sold my last company to a venture capitalist, this will be a fun panel to be involved in, but, if you're an Altai client or competitor, don't worry, Altai isn't selling!"
